Dear Friends:

I would like to congratulate the Toronto Regional Real Estate Board on reaching its 100th anniversary.

Toronto is a vibrant region with many communities, and your members have played a big part in helping to make it a great place to live. People trust your knowledge and expertise to help them reach their dream of finding a home where they and their families can create memories.

In many ways, I see us as partners in helping people turn that dream into reality. I look forward to continuing our commitment to increase the housing supply in the GTA, reduce red tape and expand transit for future generations. And I look forward to many more years of TRREB members working with families to find that perfect home.

Once again, congratulations on your 100th anniversary, and best wishes for many more.

Sincerely,
